A group of farmers banded together and posted their land. A big sign was erected Thursday on the Clifton Ostrander farm on Maple Lane Rd. Left to right, helping put up the sign are Donald E. Schindler, Mr. Ostrander, Sheridan Stewart, Alva Reynolds, John Southworth, Mal Hoyt, Howard Hall and Carl J. Blood. All of the farmers have livestock. Its protection is their main reason for posting their land. (Citizen Patriot Photograph)

Eighth Army Mows Down Over 58,000 Communists

Beer And Soda Given By Sitter Kill Texas Baby

DALLAS, Tex.—(AP)—Officers hope to learn today if a year-old baby died because a beer-drinking teen-ager fed it half a bottle of brew.

The child Leslie Fletcher, died Saturday night.

A 17-year-old boy was placed in jail without charge after he told Detective Capt. Will Fritz that he gave the infant boy the beer—then tried to revive it with orange soda pop.

Blood tests will be completed today to determine the alcoholic content of the baby's blood. A physician said the baby might have been so intoxicated that he strangled on the soda pop.

The infant was left with a 16-year-old girl baby sitter in South Dallas by the mother Mrs. Clifford F. Fletcher. The child's father is in the army.

The baby sitter was joined by another girl about her age and two boys, 17 and 18. As the two couples sat in a car in front of the house, the older boy held the infant in his lap and gave it beer from the bottle.

"The baby started turning greenish blue and I gave him an orange drink and he went to sleep," the boy told Fritz.

Move Truce Talks Out Of Kaesong, Allies Tell Reds

BY DON HUTH

TOKYO—(AP)—Allied liaison officers went to Kaesong today and told the Reds that city was not suitable as a site for a Korean war cease-fire conference.

The meeting with Communist liaison officers was held in an effort to restart the negotiations, which stalled at Kaesong a month ago.

There was no indication of the Red reaction.

The liaison officers will meet Tuesday at 10 a. m. (8 p. m., Monday, EST).

Too Close To Lines Allied headquarters here said the Reds were told:

"It is plain that partisan groups, responsible to neither command, are active in the Kaesong area. These uncontrolled elements may at any time take action which could compel a suspension of the conference."

Headquarters said also the basic instruction given the allied liaison officers was to try to arrange conditions under which the armistice talks could make the most rapid progress.

The Reds were reminded that Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway suggested Sept. 6 that a new site for the talks be chosen.

The allied liaison team said, "from the viewpoint of the military aviator, the Kaesong neutral zone is but a few minutes removed from the most important military line of supply in your rear area. Thousands of aircraft sorties are directed against this line of supply. The likelihood of an accidental occurrence involving Kaesong is obvious."

"The Communist commanders have alleged that a number of violations of the Kaesong neutral zone approaching the figure 200 have occurred. Could any fact argue more persuasively that Kaesong is unsuitable as a conference site?"

Enemy Officer Grips The U. N. delegation told the Communists "it is regrettable" that the talks were not held aboard the Danish hospital ship Jutlandia as

Little Legislature Meets Oct. 10 To Act On TB Funds

LANSING — (AP)— Governor Williams called the "Little Legislature" to meet Oct. 10 to act on the application of nine tuberculosis sanatoria for state construction funds.

In addition, the governor will submit several minor financial transfer matters of a technical nature.

The "Little Legislature" (Emergency Appropriations Commission) has been awaiting the governor's call to make the final decision in a controversy over the division of $3,000,000 among county and regional tuberculosis hospitals.

The governor said he was not sure the state tuberculosis sanatorium commission had satisfied all the legal requirements to approve each hospital's plan to care for patients in specified areas.

The commission has approved enlargement plans for the Saginaw county sanatorium, the Sunshine Sanatorium of Kent county, the Ingham county sanatorium, the Genesee county sanatorium, the Pinescroft district sanatorium at Powers, the Kimball sanatorium of Calhoun county, Morgan Heights sanatorium at Marquette, Herman Kiefer hospital in Detroit, and the American Legion hospital at Battle Creek.

Red Casualties Mount Along 150-Mile Front

'Heartbreak Ridge' Peak Lost By UN

By JOHN RANDOLPH

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea — (AP)— Gen. James A. Van Fleet today said his Eighth Army has killed or wounded 58,000 Communist soldiers in Korea since Aug. 18.

The report covered the entire 150-mile front.

About 80 per cent of the Red losses were in the bloody "battle of the hills" in Eastern Korea.

Equipment Captured The figure represents almost six Red divisions.

The casualty tolls of killed or wounded have been "evaluated." That is the army's term for the final estimate after all field accounts and reports have been discounted for possible duplication or exaggeration.

Since the Allies pushed off on limited offensives in Eastern Korea they have captured enough materiel to equip nearly a full Red division, the Eighth Army said.

Most of the Red losses were incurred after the Reds broke off the Kaesong truce talks Aug. 23.

Allied Losses Light

During this period United Nations losses have been comparatively light. U. N. troops have smashed forward up to 15 miles and captured scores of important hills on the eastern front.

The Allies have not lost a yard of ground in either North or South Korea.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said more than 800 Communist trucks were destroyed or damaged on the west central front in pre-dawn attacks Monday.

Pilots said they spotted about 2,000 vehicles. They reported 375

Superior Airmanship Keeps U. S. Ahead In Duels With Red Jets

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON — (AP)— Better American airmanship, instead of airplanes, is keeping the U. S. ahead in the almost daily duels with Soviet-made jet fighters in Korea.

Air force headquarters here said today that from last February, when the first enemy jet was shot down, through Sept. 11, the air score in Korea has been this:

U. N. jets shot down—72.

Missed Nations jets destroyed—16.

This is a curiously lopsided score, particularly so in view of communique reports indicating that many, perhaps a majority, of all the air encounters have involved superior numbers of the Red jets.

1. "Superior gunnery by U. N. pilots." (It is possible that in addition to shooting better, U. S. pilots have, in this instance, an advantage of better design. Some reports say the MIG-15s use an obsolete type of gunsight, popular in World War II but inadequate for the fast-action, high-speed flight of jet plane combat.)

2. "Many U. N. pilots are World War II combat veterans and aces, while it is doubtful that many of the enemy pilots have had similar or equal experience." (There is a general belief, although not yet proved, that Russian pilots may find some of the MIGs in the Korean action with those piloted by Russian-trained Asiatic Communists.)

3. "The U. N. has maintained the same units in Korea. On the other hand, the varied techniques and tactics of the enemy suggests that different units are put into fights." (This could reflect a shifting of units with consequent loss of combat experience, as the air force says, or mean that the Soviet tutors are trying out new combat ideas in an effort to find weaknesses in the U. N. air combat patterns.)

The MIGs are essentially a product of German skill, but the engines that drive them at speeds approaching that of sound are British-designed. They are copies of the Rolls Royce "Nene," rated as one of the world's best turbojet engines. Several years ago, before the cold war, about 50 of these engines were sold by Britain to the Soviet government.

Jenner's voice was the first raised in the Senate in flat opposition to any increase in taxes. Most Senators are expected to support some boost.

The Senate finance committee sliced $1,700,000,000 off the $7,200,000,000 revenue boost voted by the House and thus left little more than half of the increase urged by President Truman.

The president has told Congress several times a $10,000,000,000 hike is necessary this year to pay mounting preparedness costs and combat inflation.

The Senate again met two hours early today to work on the big bill. In four days of debate last week, it succeeded in acting on only a couple of minor amendments. Passage is not expected before the end of the week.

King In Good Spirits After Lung Surgery As All England Prays

By DON SCHWIND

LONDON — (AP)— King George VI was reported in good spirits today and confident of recovery from a major lung operation.

A palace spokesman said Queen Elizabeth spent the morning with her husband, but that no other members of the royal family have been permitted to see him.

The spokesman was much more cheery than an earlier medical bulletin which merely reported that the King's condition was "as satisfactory as can be expected."

No Details Given The morning medical bulletin said only:

"The King has had a restful night. His majesty's condition this morning continues to be as satisfactory as can be expected."

It came after a Buckingham Palace source had reported that the King "made it safely" through the first crucial night after his operation yesterday morning.

Anxious Britons, who had prayed for the safety of their beloved monarch, got no indication of the King's exact condition in his battle against the after-effects of the surgery.

The announcement was signed by five doctors who had spent the night at the king's bedside.

The bulletin was posted on a board attached to the fence in front of Buckingham Palace.

Trip Plans Unchanged The waiting crowd found its terms reassuring:

"Thank God for that!" One woman shouted.

Persons familiar with the wording of official royal announcements said the terse statement indicated there has been no turn for the worse, but that the king's condition is still serious. They found no evidence of any immediate medical concern.

Queen Elizabeth spent the night in a room near her desperately ill husband. The rest of the royal family was also nearby. Queen Mother Mary, 84, kept in touch by telephone from her residence at Marlborough House.

The Duke of Windsor, whose abdication in 1936 made George King, hurried to London from Paris.

There was still no change, however, in the plans of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh to leave next week for Canada.

Two Zones Of Berlin Have Riotous Sunday

BERLIN — (AP)— Berlin had a riotous Sunday with Communists and anti-Reds staging opposing demonstrations.

West Berlin police arrested 67 members of the Communist free German youth movement who tried to demonstrate in a western residential district.

East Berlin Communist police fired at least six shots to break up an anti-Red meeting on the border of the French and Soviet zones. West Berlin police said a passerby was hit in the leg, but there were no other casualties reported.

Sale Of RFC Loan Influence Thriving Washington Racket

WASHINGTON — (AP)— A former government employee told today of receiving expensive gifts and borrowing $6,100 from an official of American Lithofold Corp. when that company was seeking printing contracts with the Air Force.

The testimony at a Senate inquiry came from Charles B. Moring, who said he left his $6,400-a-year publications job with the Air Force last March to become the $25,000-a-year eastern division sales manager for American Lithofold.

Moring said Lithofold, a St. Louis printing firm, obtained a number of contracts from the Air Force but that he couldn't estimate how many or of what value. He declared that he never influenced, or tried to influence, the awarding of contracts.

Moring said he received gifts including a television set, a movie camera and projector, a ham and a turkey from a Lithofold official, Robert A. Blauner.

Senator Capehart (R-Ind.), a subcommittee member, told reporters he believes it is plain "the sale of political influence on RFC loans has become a thriving industry in Washington."

"Certainly it is a well practiced trade," he said.

A special investigation subcommittee head by Senator Hoey (D-NC) is now inquiring into the role of Democratic chairman William M. Boyle, Jr., in a $565,000 RFC loan to American Lithofold Corp. Boyle is a lawyer who was getting $500 a month from the St. Louis printing firm before he took his present job. He said he had nothing to do with the RFC loans.

President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson and other cabinet officers arranged to greet him at Union Station.

De Gasperi, the Italian leader who has successfully staved off Communism during Italy's turbulent post-war period, is to address a joint session of Congress later in the day.

His main mission here is to press for quick changes in the Italian peace pact, which limits Italy to an armed force of 300,000 so it may contribute more fully to western defense in the Mediterranean.

Informed diplomats said the State Department already is working with Britain and France on a declaration which should meet De Gasperi's demands.

Propaganda Balloons Behind Iron Curtain

HOF, Germany — (AP)— Two thousand balloons demanding a free election for all Germany under U. N. supervision and liberation of German war prisoners in Soviet camps have been wafted toward East Germany.

The West German Youth Federation sent out the anti-Communist propaganda balloons yesterday, patterned on "Winds of Freedom" balloons carrying messages behind the iron curtain for miles.

Iran Will Expel British Experts

TEHRAN, Iran — (AP)— An Iranian government official said today that British technicians in the Iran oil refinery at Abadan will be expelled in a week or 10 days unless they sign individual contracts to work for the nationalized Iranian Oil company.

The announcement was made by Ali Shayaneg, member of the parliamentary oil board.

He said the decision was taken in a three hour meeting of the board with Premier Mohammed Mossadegh this morning.

The action today was taken after Britain rebuffed an Iranian government "feeler" for renewal of oil talks.

The British foreign office rejected it on the grounds it contained no hopes for a settlement.

A spokesman for the British embassy said today the National Iranian company has banned Britons in Abadan from using their homes — built by the AIOC — and such company facilities as food stores and restaurants.

Gas Line Explosion Rips Hole In Field Near Blissfield, Mich.

BLISSFIELD, Mich. — (AP)— An explosion at the junction of two natural gas pipelines—one being ready for a test—ripped a hole 22 feet deep and 30 feet wide in an open field early today.

The blast was heard in Blissfield, five miles east of the pipeline junction, a half-mile south of US-223. No one was hurt.

The pipelines are operated by the panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. one was a 12-inch line and the other a 36-inch line. The smaller line was just installed this summer. Both lead to Detroit.

The gas was shut off at a control point in Maumee, O., but Panhandle Eastern rushed bulldozers and crews to the Blissfield area. The end of the pipe was reported to be jagged steel. There was no fire.

Terrorists Jailed In Hyderabad, India

BOMBAY, India — (AP)— Ravi Narayan Reddi and 14 others accused as top-ranking Communist terrorists were in Hyderabad jail today. They are blamed for the death of hundreds of officials and landowners in the past six years.

The Communists have been virtually in control of jungle areas of the princely state of Hyderabad and have led a peasant campaign against landlords.

Sen. McCarthy Not Worried By Talk Of Ouster

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON — (AP)— Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) said today administration forces "don't have the guts" to press for a showdown Senate vote on whether he should be ousted from Congress.

McCarthy made the statement to a reporter in advance of a closed meeting (9 a. m. EST) of a Senate rules subcommittee to consider a resolution by Senator Benton (D-Conn) on the ouster issue.

The resolution calls for a Senate investigation to determine whether there are grounds to expel McCarthy. If the matter came before the Senate later it would require a two-thirds majority of those voting to force out the Wisconsin lawmaker.

"The administration people," McCarthy declared, "don't have the guts to push this thing to a showdown vote in the Senate."

"What's more, they have no intention of doing so. This Benton resolution is just an excuse to give some of the pinheads a chance to smear."

Benton said in separate interview "there is absolutely not one bit of evidence to support McCarthy's declaration there will be no showdown," he added:

"I am convinced that there will be, and before too long. In the meantime, McCarthy is again prejudging testimony which I haven't even presented yet to the subcommittee. And he is prejudging the subcommittee before he even hears the testimony."

Animal Blood Used In Humans

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

TOKYO — (AP)—The claim of a Japanese research physician that he has successfully used animal blood plasma in transfusions to more than 600 human patients caused a flurry of interest here today.

Dr. Kunio Kawaiishi of Kawaiishi Clinical Institute of Hiroshima Medical college told a medical meeting in Tokyo that he effectively uses the processed plasma of cows, horses and pigs when patients require transfusions.

He made his statement before the reputable Japan epidemics institute, an association of physicians from all sections of this country.

Dr. Kawaiishi said he adds formalin and caustic soda to animal plasma and also uses a heat process. In occasional cases, he noted, the animal plasma caused slight ill effects such as rash or vomiting.

He found his plasma "especially effective" after operations, in burn cases, and in treatment of patients who lost blood through knife wounds. The newspaper Yomiuri quoted the physician as saying he found "practically no difference" in results obtained as compared with human blood plasma.

Antique Autos Start On Tour

CUMBERLAND, Md. — (AP) — A caravan of nearly 125 antique automobiles chugged bravely out of here this morning, their tail lamps blushing with pride at having climbed the 3,000-foot mountains between here and Pittsburgh.

The first leg of their tour, a revival of a custom of the 1900's, began yesterday in Pittsburgh.

Opera and radio singer James Melton, who is president of the Antique Automobile Club of America, leads the group in a 1907 Rolls Royce that originally sold for $20,000.

The caravan is a throwback to the days of the Gibson girl when auto manufacturers staged such tours as a test of road performance. They became known as "Glidden Tours" after a new England telephone executive, Charles J. Glidden, adopted the custom of donating prizes to the driver of the best performing car. The cars must be at least 25 years old to be in the tour. Some of them are nearly 50 years old.

American Servicemen Gouged By Profiteers

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Local communities must provide the final solution for housing shortages which lead to "shameful profiteering" at the expense of servicemen at big posts in this country, a Senate subcommittee said last night.

But Congress and the government "must give those communities every legitimate aid within our power," an armed services subcommittee on preparedness headed by Senator Lyndon Johnson (D-Texas) said.

Housed In Hovel
The group's report came after an investigation at 16 Arms, Navy, Air Force and Marine training camps. It was a follow-up to an earlier inquiry which covered three installations. Johnson said the second inquiry was made to determine the extent of "this shameful profiteering from American servicemen," he added.

"There can now be no doubt that it is widespread—so widespread that corrective action must be taken."

The group's report said standard housing and rent gouging were "shocking enough," but it added:

family in a hovel or a chicken coop represented a crack in the structure of the national unity. Enough cracks could topple the whole structure."

National Disgrace
The subcommittee said one of the "worst situations" it found was in the area around Camp Lejeune, N. C., a Marine training base. Even some Marines were found to be gouging their fellows on rents, the report said.

Commenting on the report, the National Association of Homebuilders called the situation around military posts "a national disgrace." It said its 25,000 members are ready and able to build the houses needed "as soon as Congress gives the Federal Housing Administration the go-ahead sign for defense housing."

Liquor Sales Take Slump In Michigan

LANSING — (AP) — Liquor sales by Michigan's state monopoly slumped 11.06 per cent in August under a year ago.

Total sales to date this year still were running ahead of last year, but for the month sales were off from $13,375,655 to $12,067,511. Sales for the year amounted to $86,659,010, or $8,500,000 above the same period of 1950.

The state liquor control commission reported sales of all types of intoxicants fell, except cordials.

Whiskey sales dropped 11.13 per cent, gin sales were down 4.33 per cent, brandy sales fell 5.63 per cent, rum was down 4.06 per cent, and wine sales were 20.15 per cent lower.

At the same time, the commission's inventory of stocks rose 7.40 per cent, almost exclusively due to a 41.30 per cent increase in whiskey stocks.

Delta Cancer Society Makes Plans For 1952

The financial report for the fiscal year ending last August 31 was heard and a nominating committee appointed at a regular meeting of the Delta County Cancer society in the Delta hotel Saturday afternoon. Mrs. C. L. Harrison, county commander, presided.

Those who will prepare a slate of candidates to be elected at the next meeting in October in Rapid River are Mrs. E. J. Noon, Mrs. James G. Ward, Jr., Dr. William Harrison and Henry Boyle.

The financial report, prepared by Mrs. Harrison and read by Mrs. Noon, secretary, follows: Cancer education (motion picture films, operating expenses and doctors' programs) $620; Service at the U. P. cytology laboratory in Menominee, $450, and $600 for indigent care, use of the loan fund and dressings for cancer patients.

Announcement was made of the resignations of Mrs. John Anthony, who has served for more than three years as educational chairman for the county, and Mrs.

A. M. Gilbert, district commander. Mrs. Gilbert was appointed president of the district board of directors.

William E. Anderson, of Escanaba, was appointed Delta county cancer campaign chairman for 1952.

"The October meeting will be held in Rapid River to enable more county workers in outlying districts to attend," Mrs. Harrison reported. "All members and workers in the society will be notified of the exact time and place of the meeting."

Council Action May End Controversy On City Planning

If the Escanaba city council can legally revise its planning commission ordinance by the mere adoption of amending resolutions, as City Attorney Denis McGinn indicated Saturday morning, most of the controversy regarding the planning commission's authority will quickly be dissipated.

It developed at the public meeting Saturday that most of the objections have centered around the commission's authority on public land use. A decision by the planning commission on public land use can be vetoed by the council only by a two-thirds vote. In Escanaba's five-man council, that means four votes out of five are required to overrule the commission.

Germany Has Role In European Defense

COMING on the heels of success at San Francisco, the Big Three's progress at Washington on issues affecting Germany is almost too good to be true.

Top American, British and French officials agreed without reservation that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower should be authorized to create a unified European army, including German forces.

This in essence is the French plan, but until now it had been resisted by both Britain and the United States. When Eisenhower himself endorsed the proposal, the latter two countries underwent a change of heart.

The agreement clears the way for greater spear in the organization of effective European defense. How to handle the problem of German rearmament had continuously plagued Western relations.

It should not be forgotten, however, that the Germans have minds of their own. Though the Bonn government is thoroughly committed to the West, there has been no enthusiasm for rearmament in Western Germany up to now.

The chief reasons have been fear of being trampled in a Russian offensive toward the Atlantic, and reluctance to bear arms until they have political equality.

Fully aware of this obstacle, the Big Three foreign ministers also acted at Washington to remove it by preparing to give Bonn as nearly an independent status as is possible for a divided nation living under direct Russian threat.

The diplomats will offer the Germans not a peace treaty but a "peace contract" which will closely resemble it. Under this arrangement, the Allied occupation would be officially ended and Western forces would become "defense troops" aiding the Germans. Bonn would have a high degree of control over German affairs, except where seizure by internal or external anti-democratic forces threatened.

The price for this contract would be German participation in the European defense army.

If this peace contract is engineered as planned, and accepted by Bonn on Allied terms, Germany will be pulled into the Western orbit almost as completely as Japan.

Obviously, this is a goal eminently desired by the West. By the same token, it is a condition the Soviet Union must hope to prevent. Russian foreign policy for six years has been pointed toward the winning of Japan and Germany. What will Moscow do if both slip irretrievably from Communist grasp?

On the answer to that question could hinge the issue of peace or war in the next 12 months.

Morals Now Measured By Quantity

FRANK PRINCE, a recently ousted junior official of the RFC, told a Senate committee the other day he had accepted certain gifts from the president of the American Lithofold Corp., which got $565,000 in loans from the RFC.

Among the bounty, said Prince, was a "small ham." He testified that he saw nothing wrong in accepting such a present, provided that the ham weighed no more than 12 pounds.

With this statement, Prince has thrown a whole new light upon our moral dilemma. He has introduced the quantitative, as opposed to the qualitative, measure of moral behavior. Morality, he is saying, is something you can gauge by the pound.

Think how our lives would be simplified if we could just adopt Prince's thinking on a broad scale. All we need, apparently is a system of moral weights and measures.

Given that, we can classify behavior as moral or immoral as easily as sorters grade oranges in a packing plant. Gone will be the excruciating, hair-splitting judgments of right and wrong according to qualitative standards.

Did the accused do wrong or not? Get out the scales or the calipers, mister, and we'll soon enough tell you.

We The People

By Gordon Martin

You can hear the politicians speak of what the people need, and for this and that, in Congress, they will eloquently plead. It's the folks back home who have to have some dough from Uncle Sam, else they'll lead a sorry life and be forever in a jam. And we loudly cheer the news that we will get an extra buck, and forget that, we, the people, are the victims getting stuck.

Sure, we'll welcome dough from Washington and never mind the bill—if it does not take the money, then some other people will. But we never stop to think of how the public always pays, and we'll give it back to Uncle in a thousand different ways. Every time we turn around we have to pay another tax, and we often raise the holler that the load will break our backs.

But somehow we cannot face the fact that Uncle Sam is us, and when asking for an outright grant, we kick up quite a fuss, in the fond belief that Uncle's dough is handed out for free, and we'd better be receptive when he's on a spending spree. Then we're happy in the knowledge that we've grabbed an extra buck, and forget that we, the people, are the suckers getting stuck.

Merry-Go-Round

(Editor's Note: The brass ring, good for one free ride on the Washington Merry-Go-Round today goes to Premier Alcide De Gasperi of Italy on his present visit to the United States.)

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Five years ago I was in the Luxembourg palace in Paris when a delegation representing defeated Italy entered. The entire peace conference sat stolid and chilly. Even the American and Russian delegates, who disagreed on many things, agreed in their frostiness toward the nation which had spawned Mussolini and extended his Fascist brand of tyranny over the Mediterranean.

Japan and Germany were not permitted to send delegates to the peace conference and doubtless would not have dared to do so even had they been permitted. In contrast, a thin-faced, frail Italian wearing spectacles walked timidly up to the rostrum and made a plea.

"I raise my voice for a new republic which is striving toward the lasting and constructive peace which you also are seeking," he said. "A nation of toilers is ready and determined to work with you in the foundation of a more just and humane world."

There was no applause when the thin-faced Italian finished—no indication that he had won support for the cooperation he was seeking. Nor was there any thought that this man could long remain at the helm of the turbulent, wavering coalition of parties which then governed Italy.

Today, however, that man, Premier de Gasperi of Italy, still frail, still thin-faced, still wearing horn-rimmed spectacles, is in the United States, not as a suppliant representing a conquered nation, but as a friend and partner in the defense cooperative for Western Europe.

And having come from Ottawa and a discussion of mutual NATO defense, De Gasperi knows better than most how drastically the diplomats have reversed themselves since that frigid day in the palace of Luxembourg in 1946.

HOMESUN PREMIER

It is quite possible that Italy would not be playing this role of full partnership had it not been for the man who arrives in Washington today. He is not a prepossessing figure. In fact, you can't imagine anyone more the opposite of Mussolini than Alcide De Gasperi—drab, demure, modest, homespun.

But the exact opposite of Mussolini—in more ways than one—is what Italy has needed in these harassed postwar years. And De Gasperi's life has been the reverse of Mussolini's almost from the day it began.

It began, incidentally, not in Italy but in Austria. De Gasperi was born—70 years ago—on the wrong side of the tracks, the son of a minor Austrian government official in the Tyrolean Alps, where Austria and Italy meet and where slices of territory have changed hands over the years.

De Gasperi studied at the University of Vienna, got into the labor movement, was elected to the Austrian parliament as an Italian separatist, battled against both the Austrian aristocracy and Italian Communists, and finally, after World War I had shifted his part of the Alps from Austria over to Italy, was elected to the Italian parliament.

CHRISTIANITY AND POLITICS

It was in this period when the first seeds of Italian Fascism were sprouting that De Gasperi helped found the Popular party, later the Christian Democratic party, based on the principle of applying Christianity to social and political welfare.

The foundation of that party came too late. Also the train on which De Gasperi first rode to Rome to take his seat in parliament arrived too late. Ahead of him arrived Benito Mussolini and his Fascist black shirts. De Gasperi's train had been shunted aside to make way for Mussolini's in the night.

It was inevitable that a man with De Gasperi's liberal leanings be jailed by Mussolini. After a year and a half, however, he was rescued by the archbishop of Trento and later given a job as librarian for the Vatican.

Incidentally, it was an interview with King Victor Emmanuel which led to De Gasperi's jail sentence. He and other Popular party deputies had called on the king to demand the ousting of Mussolini—a conversation which the king promptly relayed back to Il Duce.

'Contract' With West Germany Seen Filled With Loopholes

By JOHN E. EVANS

If there are dangers—as there are—in the Japanese peace treaty, they are far over-shadowed by those implicit in the forthcoming "contract" with Western Germany.

Among the more ominous anomalies at San Francisco were the absence of China, the nation Japan had been fighting longest, and the threat-laden refusal of Russia, its most powerful neighbor, to sign the pact. There is also, remote as its risk may seem at the moment, the fact that the U. S. is building up the enemy it had been at pains to crush. But in the case of Japan there was at least a proper peace treaty for nations to accept or reject.

Not so with Western Germany. It is impossible, it seems, to have a peace treaty with this nation. The reason advanced is that Western Germany is only half the nation the Allies fought in World War II, and the western powers apparently do not want to prejudice the chances of eventual reunification. So, instead of a treaty, there is to be a "contractual arrangement."

This, of course, is dodging the issue. Western Germany is a nation just as much and in the same sense as Japan was a nation before it signed at San Francisco. As far as the division of the former German nation is concerned, a contract with Western Germany hardens it as much as a peace treaty would. If the western powers had wanted to give all German unity their primary policy emphasis, they would not have created a government in the west in the first place.

The contract with Western Germany will thus rest on the illusion that this half-nation can safely and successfully be integrated into the western "community," when in fact the desire of its people will continue to be amalgamation with their eastern countrymen. This is dangerous, for it is the fate of illusions sooner or later to be shattered.

Illusory Curbs

But is it not perhaps the most dangerous illusion. Western Germany will get, as a result of the peace contract, a greater degree of sovereignty than the considerable amount it has already been granted. It will also be not merely allowed but expected to raise troops. On both these matters curbs will be retained by the western powers. The illusion is to suppose that these curbs will be, in fact, curbs.

To suppose, for example, that the requirement that the German armed forces constituted only as units in a European army will for long prevent the establishment of a German national army. It will prevent that only as long as the West German government chooses. Any assumption to the contrary is almost as short-sighted as that earlier theory that Germany could be pastoralized, its rich industrial capacity denied to itself and to Europe.

It is true that troops of the western powers would remain in West Germany, a theoretical guarantee against violation of contract pledges. But after the contract, the U. S., British and French troops will be there for the defense of West Germany, not as occupation. The German forces would have equal status, and it is doubtful that in their new role the West's troops would be used to subdue a contract-disobeying West German government. It is even more doubtful that matters would get to the point where such police action would seem to be required.

The reason is that the West German government would not have to resort to flagrant violations of the contract. The Germans would not have to recreate a general staff surreptitiously. They would only have to bargain with the western powers, and they have already proved themselves adept at that.

They know that they have the western powers in a box; the West is constantly admitting its need for German troops, as it is for German cooperation in the Schuman plan. The Germans have already exploited this western weakness to get as much sovereignty as they now have and to get concessions even on the troops question. They need only keep raising their price for cooperation to get complete sovereignty and a German national army if they want it.

An Inevitable Progression

That is inevitable. Once you give a nation—especially a nation with great industrial and military potential and one which finds itself in an all-but-unbeatable bargaining position—the form of sovereignty, it will rapidly assume the substance as well. You may as well forget about safeguards.

The emergence of a completely sovereign Western Germany with its own national army would not necessarily be, in itself a danger to the West. It comprises, after all, a western people who by culture and economics are more sympathetic to American and western European concepts than they are to those of the East. What makes this a possibly dangerous eventuality is precisely that this is half of a nation which six years ago was one nation. Not simply a nation shorn of conquered empire, but a situation where brother is cut off from brother by an arbitrary and politically and economically meaningless division.

More intense, therefore, than any western or "democratic" aspirations will be the determination of the people to reconstitute the former German unity. Who holds the key to unity? Not the West, which threw it away in its devious bargain with the devil. The Soviet Union holds the key. The West cannot offer unity to the East Germans because they are in the iron grasp of the Kremlin, but the Kremlin can offer unity to the West Germans because they will soon be all but free of the restraints imposed by the West.

A sovereign West Germany would not accept unity on present terms, perhaps not on any. The government at Bonn continues to resist the recently-renewed blandishments of the East German government in Berlin. But whatever other considerations are involved, it is undeniable that the price is now too low. Unity on present terms could hardly, fail to mean the sovietization of Western Germany.

Partners?

But the Soviets could and might do much better than that, sooner or later. They could offer unity under the aegis of the Bonn government; in other words, they could give Eastern Germany to the West German regime, offering the re-united nation not satellite status, but partnership with the Soviet Union. For such a partner, East Germany would be a small price.

It may be that, granting the division of Germany and the establishment of governments in both parts, the West has no other course but to conclude a peace "contract" with Western Germany. It may also be that the West will escape the dangers lurking in that contract. But if that happens it will not be because the contract contains guarantees of safety; it will be because the West is alert to the dangers. If, instead the West is guided by illusion, any escape will be purely fortuitous. In either case we shall get by, if at all, by the skin of our teeth.—From the Wall Street Journal.

ANOTHER LOST CREEK—Following a recent column item concerning Lost Creek on the Garden Peninsula we have had several inquiries concerning the disappearing stream.

Clarence Moreau of the Delta county tourist council asked for specific directions to Lost Creek, located north of Garden and inland on a road running easterly from Valentine Creek. Clarence thinks Lost Creek might make an interesting tourist attraction if its location was marked on the county tourist map.

Lost Creek may be on private property, however, and Clarence will contact the owner before going ahead with his plans.

A second visitor was Earl Taylor of Escanaba, who offered to guide us to another "lost creek" in the vicinity of Rapid River. It is located about three-quarters of a mile north of US-2 on a farm and Earl says the stream is the source of the Ta-cosh river.

SEEING THE PRESIDENT—Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Collins of 113 North 14th street last week returned from a trip through the East, including a visit to Washington, D. C.

We were talking to Cecil about his impressions of the nation's capitol and asked him if he had seen President Truman.

"Yes," he replied, "he was only 100 feet away from us—going past at 60 miles an hour!"

Later, however, Mr. and Mrs. Collins heard the president address a national convention of mail carriers and heard them give him a resounding ovation.

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH—The current issue of the Merchant Marine Bulletin gives a biographical sketch of Thomas Phillip Beaton Jr., better known to Delta county residents as Tom.

The sketch is presented in connection with Tom Beaton's office as a member of the National Merchant Marine committee, and credits him with being largely responsible for the American Legion's program in behalf of the Merchant Marine.

Tom served in both World Wars I and II in the U. S. Navy and "knows the importance of a strong Merchant Marine."

The Merchant Marine Bulletin cites Beaton's record of patriotic and civic service, including charter membership in the Chelsea, Michigan, American Legion Post to past president of the Gladstone Rotary club.

BEAUTY ON CANVAS—One of the most beautiful flower gardens in Escanaba—even at this late season—will be found at the John Luecke home, 814 South 14th street.

And most impressive of all right now is the row of potted tuberous begonias of every shade and form around the backyard sun porch. The blooms, some six inches and more across, range from white to deep purple reds.

Three Escanaba women whose paintings of flower compositions bring them many compliments used the begonias as subjects the other day. Mrs. Howard Tims, Mrs. T. M. Cassidy and Mrs. William J. Perkins set up easels on the porch and preserved the begonias in paint on canvas.

The Lueckes will preserve the flowers long after first frosts by covering them each night.

Mrs. Luecke's "green thumb" flower gardening makes her the envy of those who admire beauty. House plants include about 200 African violets of blue, pink, white and purple shades.

Take My Word For It... Frank Colby Jr.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

The word borough, as in "Borough of the Bronx," etc., derived from the Middle English burgh, from Anglo-Saxon burg, which meant, "fortified place where tribesmen could seek safety from danger." By development the burghs became towns.

Boro, burg, burgh, and berg are all variations in spelling of burg. These words remain in our language only as suffixes in personal and place names, such as Marlboro, Connecticut; Harrisburg, Pennsylvania; Edinburg, Mississippi; Edinburgh, Scotland.

The word "bury" once meant "manor house." Around the manor house developed little towns; and thus it was that bury came to mean town, and continues to remain as a suffix in place names, such as Whitby, and in personal names, Colby, for example; the literal meaning of "Colby" is "cold town," or "cold place."

Ham, as in Birmingham, Nottingham, etc., originally was an Anglo-Saxon word used to refer to a village, or a manor with its various outbuildings. Chester, as in Manchester, Leicester, Worcester, etc., is from the Latin castra, "camp; a walled-in town or city."

Other suffixes which evolved from words meaning "town" are: wick, from the Anglo-Saxon wic, which in turn was borrowed from the Latin vicus, "village"; -vil and -ville are variations of the French ville, "town"; and town, itself, appeared first as the Anglo-Saxon tun, meaning "enclosure; manor, village; town." The suffix -ton is a variation of town, as in Newton, Weirton, etc.

Large Taconite Plant Planned At Beaver Bay

A decision to proceed immediately with construction of a 2,500,000 ton-per-year beneficiating plant for producing high-grade iron ore from magnetic taconite has been reached by the Reserve Mining company.

A construction contract has been awarded to a group of contractors associated for this purpose. They are the Hunkin-Conkey Construction company of Cleveland, The Arundel Corporation of Baltimore, Maryland and the L. E. Dixon company of San Gabriel, California. The three have joined under the trade name of Hunkin-Arundel-Dixon. The venture is expected to cost in excess of $75,000,000.

Completion In 1955
The present plans call for completion of the construction in 1955 with the first operation either late in that year or in early 1956. The new plant will be located on the north shore of Lake Superior about 55 miles east of Duluth at Beaver Bay. The plant will be connected by a 47 mile railroad with Reserve's mining property at Babbitt, Minnesota on the extreme eastern end of the Mesabi Range. A contract for the construction of the railroad has also been let to the same contractors.

Provision will be made in this construction program to enlarge the plant as required to a 10,000,000 ton-per-year plant. Power plant capacity and heavy foundation work are included in the current construction project to accommodate at least part of this additional capacity.

To operate the 2,500,000 ton plant at full production, the mining of 7,500,000 tons of taconite will be necessary. This ore will go through a crushing plant located near the pit which is being opened up at Babbitt and the large chunks of taconite will be reduced to smaller than 4 inches in their largest dimension.

Will Pulverize Ore
The crude ore will then be transported by rail to the Beaver Bay plant where it will be pulverized to a powder about the fineness of cement. The iron mineral will be separated from the waste material which is a form of silica similar to sand, by a magnetic separation process. Following the separation, the iron mineral will be rolled into walnut size pellets and baked into hard balls in a pelletizing furnace. The finished pellets will be shipped to steel plants in the lower lakes region from docks within a new harbor adjacent to the plant at Beaver Bay.

The result will be a "tailor made" ore of much more uniform consistency than natural ore and which will be richer in iron units than any ore that has ever come out of the Lake Superior region. The process will take taconite with an iron content of about 24 to 25 per cent and by beneficiation, will produce an iron ore pellet of about 64 per cent iron. The cost of the pellets will be competitive with other Lake Superior ores.

First Large Plant
The venture is the result of many years of study on the utilization of taconite and will be the first large plant to produce a blast furnace feed from the taconite of Minnesota in commercial tonnage.

Work is proceeding at the present time toward the re-equipping of a 300,000 ton-per-year one section plant at Babbitt, which will be in operation early next year. The Babbitt plant will permit the beneficiating process to be completely studied and developed to perfection while construction of the larger plant is under way. The larger plant will be designed in multiples of the process being developed in Babbitt. Eight such sections will be included in the first phase of the construction with 32 sections contemplated for the eventual 10,000,000 ton plant.

Partners in Reserve Mining company are Republic Steel Corporation of Cleveland, Armco Steel Corporation of Middletown, Ohio and National Steel Corporation of Pittsburgh. Manager of Reserve Mining company is Oglebay-Norton & company.

East Pier Project At Grand Marais Now Completed

GRAND MARAIS—Work on the East Pier at Grand Marais, started by St. Mary's Construction company of Sault Ste. Marie July 10, 1950, has been completed.

The length of the project is approximately 800 feet with a concrete base 24 feet wide and 3 feet deep. The superstructure on the base black is 4 feet high and 4 feet wide. Old timbers beneath the concrete were removed and replaced with new No. 1 western fir.

The project was a lengthy one due to weather conditions which often made it impossible for the men to work. In 1950, 46 were lost in a four month period. The job employed from 20 to 25 men most of them Grand Marais residents. Head carpenters were Edward Soldenski, Clement Soldenski and Matthew Nymman, and bookkeeper was Kenneth LaFebvre, of Grand Marais. The divers who were brought up from Saginaw to complete the work were Jack Noppen of Grand Marais and Al Flowers of Sault Ste. Marie.

In charge of construction were George Kaysner and Col. William McNaughton of Sault Ste. Marie. The superintendent of the pier job in 1950 was Joe Beatty of Abrams, Wis., and his year the work was supervised by the contractors.

There is a possibility the West Pier may be repaired by government equipment, depending on weather conditions.

Congressman Charles E. Potter and Supervisor Louis Dowell played an important part in making possible the project which gave employment to local men and was sorely needed by the commercial fishermen. The channel is used by approximately 90 men daily and by hundreds of sports fishermen during the summer season.

Majors Boast 11 20-Game Winners

Raschi, Dickson Latest To Join

NEW YORK — (AP)—The major leagues today boast 11 20-game winners, the most since the two circuits had that many in 1928.

Vic Raschi of the New York Yankees became the fifth American league hurler to reach that charmed figure yesterday with a 6-1 triumph over the Boston Red Sox. Murry Dickson of the Pirates swelled the National league total to six with a 3-0 performance over Cincinnati.

The record for 20-game winners was made in 1903 when 17 hurlers copped 20 or more. That figure was equaled in 1905 and again in 1920.

Third For Raschi

The American league high of 10 was established in 1907 and duplicated in 1920. The National league high of nine was first set in 1901, reached again in 1903 and for the third time in 1914.

It was the third straight 20-game season for Raschi but only the first for Dickson.

The list of 20-game winners follows with their win total in parentheses:

Bob Feller, Cleveland Indians (22).
Preacher Roe, Brooklyn Dodgers (22).
Sal Maglie, New York Giants (22).

Warren Spahn, Boston Braves (21).
Robin Roberts, Philadelphia Phils (21).

Vic Raschi, New York Yankees (20).
Ed Lopat, New York Yankees (20).

Early Wynn, Cleveland Indians (20).
Mike Garcia, Cleveland Indians (20).

Larry Jansen, New York Giants (20).
Murry Dickson, Pittsburgh Pirates (20).

Miss Pepsi Again Top Speed Boat

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Chuck Thompson, veteran speed boat-racer, cracked his 36-foot Miss Pepsi, of Detroit, over rough Potomac river waters yesterday at a 79 mile an hour average speed to win the President's gold cup race for the second straight year.

Never in serious trouble, Thompson drove his sleek, twin-engine racer at speeds approaching two miles a minute and crossed the line first in each of three heats. In the first heat, his nearest rival, Gale II, was more than two miles astern.

Turnesa Wins Golf Tourney

READING, Pa. — (AP)—Jim Turnesa tossed away a mallet head putter for an ancient family blade held together by friction tape and the results paid off. He's $2,400 richer today.

Turnesa, one of six brothers of golf's most famous family, won the fifth annual $15,000 reading open golf tournament yesterday with a 72-hole total of 280, four under par.

Asked how long the putter was in the family, he replied:

"I might as well admit it. It's my mother's. Gosh, I don't know how old it is, 70 years or more. It sure is older than I am."

How did the 37-year pro from Briarcliff, N. Y., come to be using it?

Took Advice
"Well, I guess that's Jack Burke's fault. I was playing a mallet putter out at Fort Wayne, Ind., when Jack told me 'you ought to use a straight blade putter. Throw that thing away. You couldn't do worse.'"

So the wiry little Italian went home and dug up the family relic, a broken shaft patched four times.

He brought it back to the Berkeleigh country club and it worked like a charm. He toured the 6,600 yard layout in sub-par for his

Smelt And Lamprey Listed As Menaces By Lakes Fishermen

WHITEFISH POINT, Mich.—The silvery, tasty little smelt and the hated sea lamprey may be partners in crime in the Great Lakes waters.

For, reports one of Michigan's leading commercial fishermen, both are foreigners to the lakes and prey on the best of the edible fish there.

Eat Young Whitefish

The smelt menace was pointed out by Tom Brown who operates Brown fisheries on this point of land jutting into Lake Superior. He explained that where the much-feared lamprey attaches itself to the lake fish and sucks out their blood, the harmless-looking smelt eats the young of whitefish, trout and other species that look good on the dinner table.

"Unlike the lamprey," Brown said, "smelt have one saving grace. They themselves are edible, so we derive some benefit from them."

"However, it is entirely possible that their raids on other edible fish do us more harm than the benefits we reap."

Smelt, together with careless taking of minnows from the lakes, cut a big wedge out of the commercial catch, Brown believes.

Simple Mathematics

"Take whitefish, for example," he said. "It is not unusual for a whitefish to lay as many as 50,000 eggs. If unmolested, those 50,000 eggs will represent at least 100,000 pounds of edible fish in four years' time."

"So, when a little whitefish is taken out and used for bait, or devoured by a smelt, we lose 100,000 pounds of edible fish. Multiply that by many thousands—and there's your problem."

The answer, he thinks, can come only with more scientific experimentation and control work through the states hatcheries. He said he has great faith in the fish propagation work being carried out by Michigan scientists, and considers it the commercial fisherman's only salvation."

Chantilly Lace Gown
Given in marriage by her stepfather, George William Reimer, the bride wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace. The molded bodice which came to points at the waist was appliqued with cutouts of the lace around the yoke of illusion. The full skirt worn over crinolines fell in scallops over two deep ankle ruffles of net. Molded sleeves tapered to points over the wrists. Her fingertip length veil of illusion was arranged on a Juliet cap of matching lace trimmed with small seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of split carnations.

Maid of honor for the ceremony was Miss Margie Leverette. Her gown of pink Chantilly lace was styled with a full skirt over two layers of net worn over crinolines. She carried aqua carnations in a cascade bouquet.

William Gibson Ralston served as best man for his son. Ushers were Jim Quinn, brother of the bride, and W. Kenneth Hasbrook.

Mrs. Reimer attended her daughter's wedding in a gunmetal crepe dress with coral accessories. Mrs. Ralston wore a navy lace redingote with matching navy accessories.

Episcopal Rector At Synod Meeting In Ann Arbor

The Rev. and Mrs. Joseph S. Dickson of Escanaba attended the meetings of the Episcopal Synod of the Province of the Mid-West last week at Ann Arbor.

Mr. Dickson attended as a delegate from Upper Michigan and as a member of the Town and Country department of the Province.

Costs Explained—Victor P. Deemer, Manistique justice of the peace, Saturday explained the difference in costs assessed against conservation law violators and other offenders brought into court by police officers. The reason that costs charged conservation law violators amounts to $7.25, he said, is because the state gets $3.50 and this must be collected in addition to the normal city fee of $3.75. Only the city fee is assessed against other offenders who plead guilty, he pointed out.

Miss Gloria Oberg Becomes Bride Of Arthur Stevenson

Baskets of white gladiolus and cedar greens with lighted tapers in candelabra decorated the First Baptist church for the marriage on Saturday evening of Miss Gloria Jeanette Oberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Oberg, 120 South Court street and Arthur Stevenson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stevenson, sr., Perkins, Mich. Lighted candles placed in the windows and white satin bows marking the guests places completed the decorative theme.

The double ring ceremony was read at eight p. m. by Rev. Bertil Friberg, pastor. Miss Marlene Johnson, soloist, accompanied by Miss Donna Mae Lindahl, sang "Because" before the bridal party took their places for the ceremony, and as they knelt for the final blessing, "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride marched to the altar in a white tulle gown. Her father, who gave her in marriage, wore a white tulle gown. Her mother, who gave her in marriage, wore a white tulle gown. Her father, who gave her in marriage, wore a white tulle gown.

Her bridal aides, Miss Shirley Stevenson, the bridegroom's sister, was maid of honor and her two cousins, June Peterson and Melvin Carlson, were bridesmaids. They wore like gowns of burgundy velvet with burgundy nylon net overskirts and flowers in their hair. Bronze and gold mums tied with bronze satin ribbons formed their bouquets.

William Westlund of Rock served the bridegroom as best man and ushering were James Carlson and Donald Stevenson.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Oberg chose a toast brown wool street dress with brown accessories and a corsage of bronze mums and yellow roses. The groom's mother wore a lavender and cream checked suit dress trimmed with black velvet and matching accessories. Gold mums and asters formed her corsage.

A wedding reception for two hundred guests was held at the Legion club rooms in Rapid River. White wedding bells were used as decorations. The three tiered wedding cake with lighted tapers at either side centered the serving table.

The young couple left on a wedding trip to New York city and points east. For traveling the bride wore a grey gabardine suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Upon their return they will live in Milwaukee where the bridegroom is a salesman for the Omar Baking Co.

The bride graduated from Gladstone High school in 1948 and is employed in Sally's Beauty Salon in Milwaukee, and the groom graduated from Perkins High school in 1948.

Out of town guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Koltz, Manitowish, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Moltz, Mrs. Allan Lockemus, Miss Jean Rubenski, Miss Marilyn Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koltz and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Koltz, Milwaukee; Mrs. Mary Sigurdson, and daughter Katherine, Stevens Point, Wis., Miss Betty Hruska, Green Bay, Wis., Miss Peggy Phaler, Ypsilanti, Miss Fosse Lorenson, Chicago, and Mr. and Mrs. Mans Lorenson, Stoughton, Wis.

Tigers Trample Indians 9 to 1

Third Straight Win For Angry Bengals

CHICAGO —(AP)—The Cleveland Indians ruefully suspected today they have been bunted out of the bunting, and mostly by the Detroit Tigers.

Seldom has the squeeze play been used with such devastating effect as against the Indians in the American league stretch drive. They have lost four recent crucial games because of "opponents' bunts."

In two of the three losses inflicted by the Tigers in their disastrous "bunt" series last weekend, the bunt led to the Indians' downfall. The series closed out the baseball season in Detroit. Yesterday, the Bengals belted the Indians 9-1 to put the tribe two and a half games behind the first place New York Yankees. On Saturday, the Tigers jolted Cleveland, 9-4. Yet, as one-sided as these scores seem, bunts which had the Tribe in the lead in the first two games and making like statues were the key plays.

Virgil (Fire) Trucks, who whiffed 10 Indians for yesterday's Detroit win, himself dumped two safe bunts which gave the Tigers the only two runs they needed to win. And still a third safe bunt figured in a five-run sixth-inning Tiger uprising.

In Saturday's Detroit triumph, pitcher Bob Cain stroked a perfect run that put across the leading run at the time, and seemed to break Cleveland's back.

Before that, New York's Phil Rizzuto and Philadelphia's Billy Hitchcock had worked squeeze bunts which wrecked the tribe.

Escanaba Buries Norway 48-12 For Third Straight Grid Win

Three lightning touchdowns thrashed and as many conversions in the first period demoralized the Norway Vikings here Saturday afternoon and Coach Jan Roumen's Escanaba Eskymos coasted to a 48-12 win, their third straight of the season.

The Vikes were never in the ball game as Escanaba led 21-0 at the quarter, 35-0 at the half and 48-6 at the third quarter mark. Escanaba reserves saw extensive service throughout the final two periods and played the Vikes on even terms, although many of the first string Vikings were also jolted in the late stages of the game.

Poise And Power

Escanaba displayed poise and power from the opening kickoff. Three of the Escanaba touchdowns resulted from intercepted passes and Norway fumbles as the Eskymos played a hard, smart brand of football before a large home crowd.

The margin of victory was the largest in the 22-game series between the two schools and neither team had ever scored as many as 46 points in the past.

Six Eskymos joined in the touchdown parade against Norway. Casper Bartley, Paul Gunderman, Charlie Bellefeuille, Paul Baldwin and Tom Bourke scored on the ground and the final TD came on a pass from George Bartley to Bill Peltier. Bourke and Peltier, reserve backs, scored the third and fourth quarter touchdowns for Escanaba.

End JoJo Johnston made six straight conversions, points, five by placement kicks and one on a pass, before missing the extra point following the final Escanaba tally.

Bergwall Outstanding

Norway's big fullback, Victor Bergwall, was the only bright spot in an otherwise lusterless Viking squad. Carrying almost the entire Norway ground attack singlehanded, Bergwall rushed to

St. Joe Topples Bark River Broncos 13 To 0

BARK RIVER — The St. Joe Trojans stopped Bark River Fullback Joe LaVigne in his tracks yesterday and uncovered a bruising plunger in John Martineau as they ground out a 13-0 victory at the Bark River gridiron.

Operating with a handicap of a pair of charley horses, Martineau blasted the Bronco line, intercepted passes and made crushing tackles to pace St. Joe to its first win of the season. It was also the first defeat for the Winnikemen-coached Broncos.

Martineau was matched in the St. Joe backfield by Halfback Jim Grayville who led both teams in ground gaining with 95 yards.

Bark River Stubborn

Coach Tom St. Germain's crippled Trojans made it four straight over Bark River, but only after a rough afternoon of play.

The Broncos received to open the game and drove to midfield before punting to the St. Joe 20. Martineau and Grayville alternated on the ground in a sustained drive to midfield and Martineau passed to Gravelle for 31 yards to the 10. Bill Baker fumbled and Florian Bartoszek recovered for Bark River on the 20.

Bartoszek in turn fumbled two plays later and Ron Pepin recovered for St. Joe. Gravelle fumbled back and Bark River took over on their own 30.

On the last play in the first period Martineau intercepted a Greenwood pass near midfield and galloped 25 yards to the 19.

Martineau Scores

The second quarter opened with Martineau blasting 15 yards to the four, and then plunging over for the TD. He passed to Gravelle for the extra point, but the toss was long and St. Joe took a 6-0 lead.

Bark River failed to gain and punted to Martineau who returned 10 yards to the 32. Martineau's pass was intercepted by Good on the Bark River 47. LaVigne was tossed for an eight-yard loss. Good picked up a half-dozen and Bark River punted to the St. Joe 32.

Cavadeas intercepted Martineau's pass on the 37. Greenwood dropped back and flipped to End Charbonneau for a 22-yard gain to the 10-yard line. Reserve back Jim LaVigne was thrown for a seven yard loss by Tom Brien, St. Joe center, Joe LaVigne failed to gain in two trips and Greenwood missed Charbonneau with a pass. St. Joe took over and stalled out the remaining time to the half.

St. Joe protected its 6-0 lead throughout the third period as Bark River was forced to punt early in the quarter. Greenwood intercepted a Martineau pass on the Bark River 24 to stop a scoring threat. Three plays later Bark River punted to the 50.

One-Yard Plunge

St. Joe marched to the 11-yard line as the third quarter ended. Martineau plunged to the one, and then over in the first two plays of the final period. End Bob Sedenburg made it 13-0 with an end-around for the extra point.

Greenwood picked off Charbonneau, right end, with a 21-yard pass but the threat was stopped by Harlon Pepin, St. Joe guard and game captain, when he threw Greenwood for a nine-yard loss.

Bark River missed on two passes and LaVigne failed to gain on the ground. Martineau returned the following punt 15 yards to the 50.

The game ended with St. Joe in possession on the Bark River 30. The Trojans had a 13-7 first down edge and gained 264 yards to 78 for Bark River.

Gladstone Defeats Manistique 19 To 0 For Third Grid Win

MANISTIQUE — Scoring twice in the first quarter and again in the fourth, the powerful Gladstone Braves defeated the Manistique Emeralds, 19 to 0, in a football game here Saturday night.

The Emerald defense stiffened in the second and third quarters after the disastrous opening period. A Gladstone drive was stopped on the one yard mark in the second.

The Manistique offense, however, seemed unable to get rolling in a sustained drive, the Emeralds being off particularly in running interference.

Beauchamp Scores

The Braves scored their first touchdown after recovering their own fumble on the Manistique 16-yard stripe. On the next play Norman Beauchamp took the oval on a 20-yard sweep around his own left end to hit pay dirt. The try for extra point was blocked by Manistique's Robert Clement.

A pass, Duane Switzer to Lowell LaPlant, was good for 80 yards and a score as Gladstone increased its total to 12 points a short time later. The kick for extra point missed the uprights.

A pass again started Gladstone's scoring march about the middle of the fourth quarter. Martin Becker receiving and placing the oval on the Emerald 26, Beauchamp hit right tackle for five yards, and LaPlant then lugged the ball to the 11 yard mark on a short end sprint. LaPlant took the ball again on the next play, scooting through a big hole in the Manistique line to score.

The try for extra point, a pass, was good.

A double penalty nullified a Gladstone scoring play in the third quarter after LaPlant flipped a pass to Thomas Moreau who lugged it over the goal line. The Braves were charged with an illegal formation and a personal foul to wipe out the score and put the ball back in play on the 50 yard line.

Stambaugh Nips Iron Mountain By 7-6 Score

IRON MOUNTAIN—A successful extra point conversion on the second try kept Stambaugh in the ranks of the undefeated U. P. football teams Saturday afternoon.

The Hilltoppers trailed Iron Mountain 6-0 in the final period at Iron Mountain when a blocked kick put Stambaugh in possession on the Mountaineer two-yard line.

Frank Zanon, fullback, plunged for the tying TD. Ed Erickson, end, missed the extra point kick but Iron Mountain was offside.

His second attempt split the uprights.

Iron Mountain took the lead in the third period. The Mountaineers recovered a fumble on the Stambaugh 10 from where Jack Hamm scored in two plays. The extra point kick was good but the Mountaineers were offside. The second attempt was wide.

The Mountaineers piled up nine first downs to only one for Stambaugh and outstruck the visitors 174 yards to 51.

The loss was the first for Iron Mountain and it was Stambaugh's third win.

Packers Tip Redskins 14-7 In Exhibition

ALEXANDRIA, Va.—(AP)—Bob Thompson, the former V. M. I. star, Sunday pitched the Green Bay Packers to a 14 to 7 victory over the Washington Redskins in an exhibition game which wound up training tours for both clubs.

The Packer quarterback engineered scoring drives of 67 and 80 yards, passing 17 yards to Halfback Jug Girard for a first period score.

The second tally, coming in the fourth quarter after the Redskins had evened the score, was counted by Fullback Jack Cloud who bulled over from the three.

Yanks, Dodgers About Set For World Series

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

New York's onrushing Yankees and Brooklyn's back-peddaling Dodgers are all but mathematically certain to meet, for the fourth time in 11 years, in baseball's top classic, the World Series.

Both came closer to clinching their respective championships yesterday. The Yankees increased their American league lead over Cleveland to two and a half games, beating the Red Sox in the rubber game in Boston, 6-1. The revenge-minded Tigers meanwhile thumped the Indians for the third straight time in Detroit 9-1.

The Dodgers snapped a two-game losing streak with a 6-2 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies and retained their three-game National league lead over the hard-pressing New York Giants. The Polo Grounders, fighting a seemingly losing battle again whipped the Boston Braves, 4-1.

Vic Raschi became the fifth American league pitcher, and the 11th in the majors, to win 20 games with an eight-hitter over the Red Sox. It was his third straight 20-game winning season.

Not since 1928 have the majors boasted as many as 11 in this charmed circle. The record number of 20-game winners was 17 in 1903, 1905 and 1920. The American league high of 10 was set in 1907 and equaled in 1920. The National league high of nine was set in 1901 and duplicated in 1903 and 1914.

A single by pinch hitter Johnny Mize in the seventh drove in the tally that broke a 1-1 tie and paved the way for a three-run Yankee inning. Mize also doubled in the two-run eighth as Chuck Stobbs went down to his eighth defeat. Raschi helped his cause with two RBIs on a sacrifice bunt and a two-bagger. It was only the second New York win in Boston in 11 attempts.

Loggers To Hold U. P. Congress

Large Industrial Exhibit Planned

MARQUETTE, Mich.—The sixth annual Lake States Logging Congress, to be held in Marquette for three days starting September 27, under the sponsorship of the Timber Producers association, will outrank any of its five predecessors in attendance and in size of the industrial exhibit, one of the top features of the congress.

Registrations rolling in give "sure indication", according to Laurel G. Heinske, secretary of the association, of an attendance in excess of 700, first time the congress has gone past that level, and there are now 78 entries in the exhibit, which is 22 more than ever shown before. "It means practically a million and a half dollars on display in the form of equipment, materials and research projects," Heinske stated.

Most of the sessions will be conducted in the beautiful Lee Hall of the Northern Michigan College of Education although Congress headquarters will be set up in the Hotel Northland.

Federal and state authorities will be on the program in addition to representatives of various phases of the logging industry itself. The convention dinner program will be held at 7 Friday evening, September 28, with Ernest R. Orchard, Duluth, the principal speaker.

Bob Ruark Says:

Rotten Graft Permeates Public Life In America

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—One of the legal travesties of our time has occurred lately, during the abortive trial of a big bookmaker, Harry Gross, who crossed up the prosecution in a graft trial by refusing to continue testimony after the case had been carefully built by the D. A.

It is cockeyed commentary on our age that the sweating bookie refused to testify that each of the suspect cops were honest men—on the grounds that he might perjure himself. One by one, the cops on whom Gross had put the finger long before, during grand jury hearings, stood up. Each man was called by name by Judge Samuel Leibowitz, and Gross refused to say that any one was innocent.

The careful work of two years collapsed as Gross took a lengthy fall for 60 counts of contempt, but the cops originally accused by him of grafting go free, and cannot be tried again because of the law of double jeopardy. And the graft goes on and on, while the reformed canary sings to himself in jail. And he will twitter for quite a spell, since he is up for sentence on 66 citations for conspiracy and bookmaking, in addition to the 1,800 days Judge Leibowitz bestowed upon him for clammoring up.

Wise Money Beats Game
Whole aim of the trial was not the jailing of Gross, who was charged with receiving $75,000 as a bonus for taking the fall. The aim was the lancing of an abscess of police collusion with racketeers.
